

The Debate:
eDiscovery vs.
Information Governance

ARMA Atlanta Chapter
January 17, 2017

Corinne Cartwright, CEDS
Strategic eDiscovery Specialist
Ricoh USA, Inc.

Scott Wandstrat, Esq.
Partner
Arnall Golden Gregory, LLP

Dylan Williams, CRM, IGP
Principal Consultant – Governance,
Risk and Compliance
Ricoh USA, Inc.

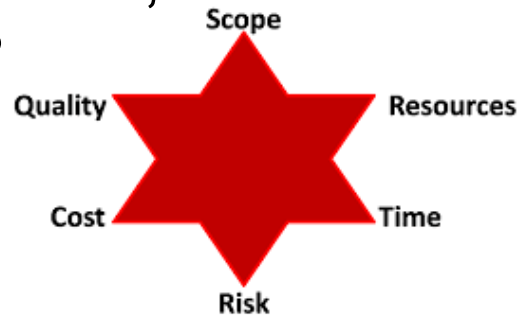

Agenda Topics

- The Debate
- The Rules
- What's Missing?
- The Technology

Is information governance worth the investment in time, money, and resources?

Are the changes to the FRCP, namely the emphasis on proportionality, helping organizations regulate information?

What's missing from the current definition or approach to Information Governance?

What's missing from the current approach that most organizations take with eDiscovery?

Cornered

by Mike Baldwin

© 2005 Mike Baldwin / Dist. by Universal Press Syndicate - www.cornered.com
cornered@comic.com

"Seems the onboard computer analyzed your driving patterns and determined it was best for all not to start the engine."

Technology:
Too much.... or not enough?

When should organizations insource, outsource, or hand off eDiscovery to counsel?

Closing Remarks

Thank you!

Your Presenters

Corinne Cartwright

Strategic eDiscovery Specialist

Corinne.Cartwright@ricoh-usa.com

Dylan Williams

Principal Consultant Governance,
Risk and Compliance

Dylan.Williams@ricoh-usa.com

Scott Wandstrat
Partner

Scott.Wandstrat@agg.com